

Ray-Cam Community Center
Mosaic Project
East Vancouver BC

This project was done in three pieces, two leaves and one big square plaque. The detail, shows a piece Shylene worked on.

This project was worked on mainly by seniors and youth who came together, with a language barrier, to create these three wonderful pieces of community art.

Volunteering on this mosaic project taught Shylene the brilliant work that can be built by joining imagination and creativity together. Taking an design drawn by a few and creating a mosaic built by many. What a concept.

Special thanks to Dan Bushnell and Jane Cameron who allowed me to work briefly on this project. It is amazing what one can learn in an afternoon. Thank you.

From this and other Lower Mainland community mosaic projects I have gained the inspiration and motivation to bring this concept to Vancouver Island. It will be exciting to see what evolves from this experience.
